Racial Justice Training

In keeping with the regions' commitments to racial justice, all who are involved in leadership in their congregations or the region are encouraged to participate in the racial justice workshops offered by the United Church of Canada. For information or to register for upcoming courses go to:

RJ Workshop \(united-in-learning.com\)

If you have taken the United Church's racial justice training program and are looking for a more in-depth antiracism course, Selam Debs offers an online Antiracism Course from a Canadian perspective, Go to www.selamdebs.com for information about The Antiracism Course.

This fall, Thérèse Samuel, Minister for Right Relations and Social Justice, will be offering a discussion series for United Church leaders who participate in the course through Selam.. Express your interest by sending an email to tsamuel@united-church.ca with Antiracism Course in the subject line, and you will be informed when the discussion session is starting.

Grants are available through the regions to help with the costs of these programs.

For more information or to register for the antiracism discussion series, contact Thérèse at tsamuel@united-church.ca training.

There are lots of things you can learn from a lecture, but Godly Play must be learned from the inside out. This training will enable that to happen. You will experience and tell Godly Play stories, and learn how to set up and manage a Godly Play space and session. You will deepen your understanding of the spirituality of children. You will achieve greater clarity about the foundations of Godly Play, and leave spiritually refreshed. All learning will take place in a prayerful atmosphere of give and take with accredited and experienced Godly Play trainers. To get the most out of your experience, we ask that you read Teaching Godly Play: How to Mentor the Spiritual Development of Children by Jerome W. Berryman before attending the training.

Date: October 23, November 6 and 20, 2021

Time: 8:30am

The registration fee is $350, including lunch, snacks, and training binder.

Please register online through Eventbee.

Our Long and Winding Road: Seeking our Path in the Longevity Revolution

RICHARD F. ADDRESS, RABBI, D.MIN

Saturday, November 13, 2021

9:30 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

(Registration 8:30 – 9:30 a.m.)

$50.00 per person | Snacks and Lunch included

Richard F. Address, D.Min. is a leading authority on Boomer and Older Adult Ministry. He serves as Founder and Director of www.jewishsacredaging.com. He served for 33 years on staff of Union for Reform Judaism as Regional Director and then as Founding Director of Department of Jewish Family Concerns. He has also served congregations in California and, for the last several years, was senior rabbi at a congregation in southern New Jersey. He hosts the weekly radio show “Boomer Generation Radio” in Philadelphia and serves as co-chair of the Committee of Spirituality and Diversity for C-TAC: the Coalition to Transform Advanced Care. Rabbi Address is active with the World Union for Progressive Judaism and writes and speaks regularly on issues related to baby boomers, aging and how Judaism can impact our lives as we age. An incredibly engaging and thoughtful speaker, we are delighted to be able to welcome Rabbi Address back to London this November.

Please be assured that we will be doing everything we can to keep you safe and comfortable during your visit to Siloam on November 13th. We trust that everyone will have received their second Arrest, detention and interrogation of Palestinian teenagers living in the West Bank.

A special webinar organized by Stand Up for Palestinian Children's Rights, a broad based cross-Canada planning committee, in collaboration with the Ottawa Forum on Israel/Palestine (OFIP).

Oct 13, 2021 12:00 PM (noon) Eastern Time (US and Canada)

Imagine heavily armed soldiers breaking into your home at 2 am, dragging your teenager out of bed and taking him off to be interrogated!

Hundreds of Palestinian children are arrested in this way every year by the Israeli military. Many on "suspicion" of stone throwing which can bring a sentence of up to 10 years in jail. Their parents can also be arrested. In custody the children may be subjected to physical and/or psychological torture to reveal the names of their friends. The conviction rate of the children is 99%.

Canadians Kathy Bergen and Dorcas Gordon will interview two on the spot observers - one Palestinian and one Israeli - from Jerusalem about this horrifying situation.

- Salwa Dubais from Military Court Watch will tell us about the impact on Palestinian families and the difficulties teens face after their imprisonment.
- Dani Shenhar from HaMoked: Center for the Defence of the Individual (an Israeli human rights organization assisting Palestinians of

“IT IS OK TO NOT BE OK BUT IT ISN’T OK TO STAY THAT WAY.”

The Rev. Krista Hilton is the newly appointed ecumenical chaplain at Brock University.

Chaplaincy at university provides spiritual and pastoral care to students and staff via a ministry of presence, outreach, and faith exploration. I am happy to introduce myself as the new ecumenical chaplain at Brock University in St. Catharines, and I'm looking forward to welcoming the students to campus this fall.

I came to campus ministry via a circuitous route... I first experienced a call to chaplaincy when I did my undergraduate degree at the University of Guelph in 1995. However, once I began my Master of Divinity degree at the Atlantic School of Theology in Halifax, my focus shifted to parish ministry. I served in Anglican parishes in Nova Scotia for ten years, after which I resigned from parish ministry and focussed instead on training in spiritual direction, vocational discernment, and pastoral counselling.

My husband and I subsequently moved to Ontario, and we began our family; looking after our two girls occupied my time in the following years. After three years of living in St. Catharines, I saw a job advertisement for a part time ecumenical chaplain (sponsored by the Anglican, Presbyterian, and United Churches) at Brock University. Suddenly, the vocation from all those years ago

I now have the privilege of walking with university students as they discern the pathways for their future and learn to listen to how God is guiding them. Entering university is both an exciting and scary time for many of them. It is often a time of budding independence, exploring new ideas and ways of being in the world. This can be challenging, confusing, and mind-broadening all at the same time. A university chaplain provides a ministry of presence: a person who will walk alongside and provide a safe space for wrestling with new concepts, light bulb moments, and even discovering new identities.

I welcome the support of local churches in a variety of ways: if you know of students at Brock University, I would be happy to make a connection (please feel free to share my email!); I'm also glad to facilitate shared ministries between local congregations and Brock students, who are often looking for volunteer opportunities. As students attend a campus for the first time, or return to campus, I encourage students to reach out to the campus chaplain as a resource for support, encouragement, and spiritual guidance. And I welcome prayers for all campus ministries, that they may be a place of welcome and acceptance for everyone.

“We have not ceased praying for you and asking that you may be filled with the knowledge of God’s will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding, so that you may lead lives worthy of the Lord, fully pleasing to him, as you bear fruit in every good work and as you grow in the knowledge of God.” Colossians 1: 9b-10
