Business Trust

The Western Ontario Waterways Regional Trust is for the benefit of the Regional Council. The beneficiary of the Regional Trust is the Regional Council and a wholly-owned affiliate United Property Resource Corporation (UPRC) is the corporate trustee of the Regional Trust.

The United Church of Canada (UCC) incorporated United Property Resource Corporation (UPRC) agrees that, in carrying out its mandate and conducting its operations, it will support and comply with, as fully as possible, the values, applicable policies and priorities of the United Church. This includes, without limitation:

- ensuring continued availability of space for worship and Christian faith formation for United Church communities of faith;
- providing housing in Canada, including affordable housing;
- tailoring facilities and space in the development and redevelopment of church properties to meet community needs, especially the needs of community members who face structural barriers to full inclusion; and
- creating environments that are accessible for all people.

In achieving these goals, the United Church recognizes the need to hold or develop properties to serve ministry needs when financially viable. To achieve these objectives, UPRC, through Kindred Works, has created a professional real estate team to identify, evaluate and institutionally manage and/or develop these properties in cooperation with the Regional Council in a streamlined portfolio approach that can support the above objectives.

The Regional Trust structure allows for one consolidated entity to be managed by Kindred Works on behalf and in cooperation with the Regional Council. In cases in which properties are currently held by the General Council Office on behalf of the Regional Council, the beneficial interest in the properties will be transferred from the Regional Council to the Regional Trust.

In addition, properties of disbanding congregations can also be transferred to the Regional Trust, after consultation between UPRC and the Regional Council with respect to each such property. Where title is still held by the disbanding congregation, title will be transferred to UCC or another nominee designated by UCC from time to time.

This structure is intended to facilitate retention of church properties where the Regional Council deems this to be strategically important and financially feasible. This structure facilitates a systematic and professional portfolio approach to holding property while following the polity of property of the United Church.
